

Could you be a John Paul II award leaders? Last chance to register!

Over 20,000 young people in the UK and Ireland have taken part in The John Paul II Award scheme. It's about encouraging young people to take an active part in the life of the Church.

Any young people over the age of 16 (post GCSE) can take part through their school or parish.

The role of the JP II Award Leader is to support a young person who takes on the award by mentoring them, helping them to reflect on their skills and development, and identifying ways they can be more involved in the life of their parish and community.

The award recognises young people's contribution to the life of the parish as well as involvement in social action projects in the community.
